THE CATHOLIC CHURCH'S LONG HISTORY OF COVERING UP CHILD SEXUAL ABUSE

40. In 1962, the Vatican in Rome issued a Papal Instruction binding upon all Bishops throughout the world including the Bishop of the Diocese. The instruction was binding upon the Bishop of the Diocese. The instruction directed that allegations and reports of sexual abuse of children by priests were required to be kept secret and not disclosed either to civil authorities such as law enforcement, to co-employees or supervisors of parish priests, or to parishioners generally.

41. Canon law requires Bishops to keep subsecreto files also known as confidential files. These files are not to be made public.

42. Because of problems of sexual misconduct of Catholic clergy, the Catholic Church and other organizations sponsored treatment centers for priests that had been involved in sexual misconduct, including centers in Albuquerque, New Mexico, Suitland, Maryland, Downingtown Pennsylvania, and Ontario, Canada.

43. Sexual abuse of members of the public by Catholic clergy and agents of the Church has been a reality in the Catholic Church for centuries but has remained concealed by a pattern and practice of secrecy. This secrecy is rooted in the official policies of the Catholic Church which are applicable to all dioceses and in fact are part of the practices of each diocese, including the Diocese. Sexual abuse of minors by Catholic clergy and religious leaders became publicly known in the mid 1980's as a result of media coverage of a case in Lafayette, Louisiana. Since that time, the media has continued to expose cases of clergy sexual abuse throughout the United States. In spite of these revelations as well as the many criminal and civil legal-actions the Church has been involved in as a result of sexual abuse of minors by clergy and other agents of the Church, the bishops and other Church leaders continued to pursue a policy of secrecy.

44. All of the procedures required in the so-called "Dallas Charter" to purportedly protect children have been previously mandated in the Code of Canon Law but were consistently ignored by Catholic bishops. In place of the required processes, which would have kept a written record of cases of clergy sexual abuse, the bishops applied a policy of clandestine transfer of accused priests from one local or diocesan assignment to another or from one diocese to another. The receiving parishioners and often the receiving pastors were not informed of any accusations of sexual abuse of minors.

45. The truth concerning the extent of the frequency of sexual abuse at the hands of Catholic priests, other clergy and agents of the Church, and Catholic Church's pervasive campaign to cover up such crimes continues to be revealed. In approximately 2003, the Suffolk County Supreme Court Special Grand Jury issued a Report ("Grand Jury Report"), which investigated child sexual abuse by the Diocese's priests. The Report documented the Diocese's cover up of sexual abuse. In the course of the Grand Jury investigation, it heard testimony from 97 witnesses and considered hundreds of pages of documents regarding priests of the Diocese sexually violating children.

46. The Grand Jury Report contains a number of startling observations and conclusions, including:

- "A general failure of supervision from officials of the Diocese, to individual pastors and other priests living in rectories, compounded and perpetuated these violations with devastating consequences for children."
- "Priests committed crimes against children of the Diocese. These crimes were treated as a matter of sin and never reported to law enforcement authorities."

- "The culture of the Diocese was one of secrecy and obfuscation. Diocesan officials purposely withheld information from parishioners and from their own priests and pastors."
- "Most children did not report the crimes against them until long after the criminal statute of limitations had lapsed. Those who did were promised help but received little. Instead, they were ignored, belittled and revictimized."
- "In some cases... the Diocese procrastinated for the sole purpose of making sure that the civil and criminal statutes of limitation were no longer applicable in the cases."
- "The policy was to avoid scandal by the suppression of information. Priests and Diocesan officials lied about what they knew about sexually abusive priests to their parishioners and to the public at large. This policy put children at grave risk."
- "The response of priests in the Diocesan hierarchy to allegations of criminal sexual abuse was not pastoral. In fact, although there was a written policy that set forth a pastoral tone, it was a sham."
- "Abusive priests were protected under the guise of confidentiality; their histories mired in secrecy. Professional treatment recommendations were ignored, and dangerous priests allowed to minister to children."

47. In approximately 2004, the Diocese publicly admitted that it knew of 66 priests who worked in the Diocese who had been accused of sexually molesting minors. The Diocese has never publicly released those names. As a result, children are at risk of being sexually molested. Further, the public is placed under the mistaken belief that Defendants do not have undisclosed knowledge of clerics who present a danger to children.

48. Refusal to disclose sexually abusing clerics to parishioners and even fellow clerics has been one way utilized by Defendant to maintain secrecy. Another has been to use various forms of persuasion on victims or their families to convince them to remain silent about incidents of abuse. These forms of persuasion have included methods that have ranged from sympathetic attempts to gain silence to direct intimidation to various kinds of threats. In so doing the clergy involved, from bishops to priests, have relied on their power to overwhelm victims and their families.

49. The sexual abuse of children and the Catholic Church's abhorrent culture of concealing these crimes are at the heart of the allegations complained of herein.

50. The Child Victims Act was enacted for the explicit purpose of providing survivors of child sexual abuse with the recourse to bring a private right of action against the sexual predators who abused them and the institutions that concealed their crimes.

It was under these circumstances that Plaintiff came to be under the direction, contact, and control of Father Edward Byrne, who used his position of authority and trust over Plaintiff to sexually abuse and harass Plaintiff.

70. Through Father Edward Byrne's positions at, within, or for the Church, Father Edward Byrne was put in direct contact with Plaintiff, a member of the Church. It was under these circumstances that Plaintiff came to be under the direction, contact, and control of Father Edward Byrne, who used his position of authority and trust over Plaintiff to sexually abuse and harass Plaintiff.

71. On repeated occasions, while Plaintiff was a minor, Father Edward Byrne while acting as a priest, teacher, counselor, advisor, mentor, trustee, director, officer, employee, agent, servant and/or volunteer of the Diocese, sexually assaulted, sexually abused, and/or had sexual contact with Plaintiff in violation of the laws of the State of New York, including the New York State Penal Law.

72. On repeated occasions, while Plaintiff was a minor, Father Edward Byrne, while acting as a priest, teacher, counselor, advisor, mentor, trustee, director, officer, employee, agent, servant and/or volunteer of the School, sexually assaulted, sexually abused, and/or had sexual contact with Plaintiff in violation of the laws of the State of New York, including the New York State Penal Law.

73. On repeated occasions, while Plaintiff was a minor, Father Edward Byrne, while acting as a priest, teacher, counselor, advisor, mentor, trustee, director, officer, employee, agent, servant and/or volunteer of the Church, sexually assaulted, sexually abused, and/or had sexual contact with Plaintiff in violation of the laws of the State of New York, including the New York State Penal Law.

74. The abuse occurred approximately in or about 1976.

75. Plaintiff's relationship to the Diocese, as a vulnerable minor, student, parishioner and participant in School educational and religious instructional activities, was one in which Plaintiff was subject to the Diocese's ongoing influence. The dominating culture of the Catholic Church over Plaintiff pressured Plaintiff not to report Father Edward Byrne's sexual abuse of him.

76. Plaintiff's relationship to the Diocese, as a vulnerable minor, student, parishioner and participant in Church educational and religious instructional activities, was one in which Plaintiff was subject to the Diocese's ongoing influence. The dominating culture of the Catholic Church over Plaintiff pressured Plaintiff not to report Father Edward Byrne's sexual abuse of him.

77. Plaintiff's relationship to the School, as a vulnerable minor, student, parishioner and participant in School educational and religious instructional activities, was one in which Plaintiff was subject to the School's ongoing influence. The dominating culture of the Catholic Church over Plaintiff pressured Plaintiff not to report Father Edward Byrne's sexual abuse of him.

78. Plaintiff's relationship to the Church, as a vulnerable minor, student, parishioner and participant in Church educational and religious instructional activities, was one in which Plaintiff was subject to the Church's ongoing influence. The dominating culture of the Catholic Church over Plaintiff pressured Plaintiff not to report Father Edward Byrne's sexual abuse of him.

79. At no time did the Diocese ever send an official, a member of the clergy, an investigator or any employee or independent contractor to the School to advise or provide any form of notice to the students or their parents, either verbally or in writing, that there were credible allegations against Father Edward Byrne and to request that anyone who saw, suspected or suffered sexual abuse to come forward and file a report with the police department. Rather, the Diocese remained silent.

80. At no time did the Diocese ever send an official, a member of the clergy, an investigator or any employee or independent contractor to the Church to advise or provide any form of notice to the students or their parents, either verbally or in writing, that there were credible allegations against Father Edward Byrne and to request that anyone who saw, suspected or suffered sexual abuse to come forward and file a report with the police department. Rather, the Diocese remained silent.

81. At all times material hereto, Father Edward Byrne was under the direct supervision, employ and/or control of the Diocese.

82. At all times material hereto, Father Edward Byrne was under the direct supervision, employ and/or control of the School.

83. At all times material hereto, Father Edward Byrne was under the direct supervision, employ and/or control of the Church.

84. The Diocese knew and/or reasonably should have known, and/or knowingly condoned, and/or covered up the inappropriate and unlawful sexual activities of Father Edward Byrne, who sexually abused Plaintiff.

85. The School knew and/or reasonably should have known, and/or knowingly condoned, and/or covered up the inappropriate and unlawful sexual activities of Father Edward Byrne, who sexually abused Plaintiff.

86. The Church knew and/or reasonably should have known, and/or knowingly condoned, and/or covered up the inappropriate and unlawful sexual activities of Father Edward Byrne, who sexually abused Plaintiff.

87. The Diocese negligently or recklessly believed that Father Edward Byrne was fit to work with children and/or that any previous problems he had were fixed and cured; that Father Edward Byrne would not sexually molest children; and that Father Edward Byrne would not injure children.

88. The School negligently or recklessly believed that Father Edward Byrne was fit to work with children and/or that any previous problems he had were fixed and cured; that Father Edward Byrne would not sexually molest children; and that Father Edward Byrne would not injure children.

89. The Church negligently or recklessly believed that Father Edward Byrne was fit to work with children and/or that any previous problems he had were fixed and cured; that Father Edward Byrne would not sexually molest children; and that Father Edward Byrne would not injure children.

90. The Diocese had the responsibility to supervise and/or direct priests and other school educators and personnel serving at the School and specifically had a duty not to aid a pedophile such as Father Edward Byrne by assigning, maintaining and/or appointing him to a position with access to minors.

91. The School had the responsibility to supervise and/or direct priests and other school educators and personnel serving at the School and specifically had a duty not to aid a pedophile such as Father Edward Byrne by assigning, maintaining and/or appointing him to a position with access to minors.

92. The Church had the responsibility to supervise and/or direct priests and other school educators and personnel serving at the School and specifically had a duty not to aid a pedophile such as Father Edward Byrne by assigning, maintaining and/or appointing him to a position with access to minors.

93. By holding Father Edward Byrne out as safe to work with children and by undertaking the custody, supervision of, and/or care of the minor Plaintiff, the Diocese entered into a fiduciary relationship with the minor Plaintiff. As a result of Plaintiff's being a minor and by the Diocese undertaking the care and guidance of the vulnerable minor Plaintiff, the Diocese held a position of empowerment over Plaintiff.

94. By holding Father Edward Byrne out as safe to work with children and by undertaking the custody, supervision of, and/or care of the minor Plaintiff, the School entered into a fiduciary relationship with the minor Plaintiff. As a result of Plaintiff's being a minor, and by the School undertaking the care and guidance of the vulnerable minor Plaintiff, the School held a position of empowerment over Plaintiff.

95. By holding Father Edward Byrne out as safe to work with children and by undertaking the custody, supervision of, and/or care of the minor Plaintiff, the Church entered into a fiduciary relationship with the minor Plaintiff. As a result of Plaintiff's being a minor, and by the Church undertaking the care and guidance of the vulnerable minor Plaintiff, the Church held a position of empowerment over Plaintiff.

96. The Diocese, by holding itself out as being able to provide a safe environment for children, solicited and/or accepted this position of empowerment. This empowerment prevented the then minor Plaintiff from effectively protecting himself. The Diocese thus entered into a fiduciary relationship with Plaintiff.

97. The School, by holding itself out as being able to provide a safe environment for children, solicited and/or accepted this position of empowerment. This empowerment prevented the then minor Plaintiff from effectively protecting himself. The School thus entered into a fiduciary relationship with Plaintiff.

98. The Church, by holding itself out as being able to provide a safe environment for children, solicited and/or accepted this position of empowerment. This empowerment prevented the then minor Plaintiff from effectively protecting himself. The Church thus entered into a fiduciary relationship with Plaintiff.

99. The Diocese had a special relationship with Plaintiff.

100. The School had a special relationship with Plaintiff.

101. The Church had a special relationship with Plaintiff.

102. The Diocese owed Plaintiff a duty of reasonable care because the Diocese had superior knowledge about the risk that Father Edward Byrne posed to Plaintiff, the risk of abuse in general in its programs, and/or the risks that its facilities posed to minor children.

103. The School owed Plaintiff a duty of reasonable care because the School had superior knowledge about the risk that Father Edward Byrne posed to Plaintiff, the risk of abuse in general in its programs, and/or the risks that its facilities posed to minor children.

104. The Church owed Plaintiff a duty of reasonable care because the Diocese had superior knowledge about the risk that Father Edward Byrne posed to Plaintiff, the risk of abuse in general in its programs, and/or the risks that its facilities posed to minor children.

105. The Diocese owed Plaintiff a duty of reasonable care because it solicited youth and parents for participation in its youth programs; encouraged youth and parents to have the youth participate in its programs; undertook custody of minor children, including Plaintiff; promoted its facilities and programs as being safe for children; held its agents including Father Edward Byrne out as safe to work with children; encouraged parents and children to spend time with its agents; and/or encouraged its agents, including Father Edward Byrne, to spend time with, interact with, and recruit children.

106. The School owed Plaintiff a duty of reasonable care because it solicited youth and parents for participation in its youth programs; encouraged youth and parents to have the youth participate in its programs; undertook custody of minor children, including Plaintiff; promoted its facilities and programs as being safe for children; held its agents including Father Edward Byrne out as safe to work with children; encouraged parents and children to spend time with its agents; and/or encouraged its agents, including Father Edward Byrne, to spend time with, interact with, and recruit children.

107. The Church owed Plaintiff a duty of reasonable care because it solicited youth and parents for participation in its youth programs; encouraged youth and parents to have the youth participate in its programs; undertook custody of minor children, including Plaintiff; promoted its facilities and programs as being safe for children; held its agents including Father Edward Byrne out as safe to work with children; encouraged parents and children to spend time with its agents; and/or encouraged its agents, including Father Edward Byrne, to spend time with, interact with, and recruit children.

108. The Diocese owed Plaintiff a duty to protect Plaintiff from harm because the Diocese's actions created a foreseeable risk of harm to Plaintiff.

109. The School owed Plaintiff a duty to protect Plaintiff from harm because the School's actions created a foreseeable risk of harm to Plaintiff.

110. The Church owed Plaintiff a duty to protect Plaintiff from harm because the Church's actions created a foreseeable risk of harm to Plaintiff.

111. The Diocese's breach of its duties include but are not limited to: failure to have sufficient policies and procedures to prevent child sexual abuse, failure to properly implement the policies and procedures to prevent child sexual abuse, failure to take reasonable measures to make sure that the policies and procedures to prevent child sexual abuse were working, failure to adequately inform families and children of the risks of child sexual abuse, failure to investigate risks of child sexual abuse, failure to properly train the workers at institutions and programs within the Diocese, geographical confines, failure to protect children in its programs from child sexual abuse, failure to adhere to the applicable standard of care for child safety, failure to investigate the amount and type of information necessary to represent the institutions, programs, leaders and people as safe, failure to train its employees properly to identify signs of child molestation by fellow employees, failure by relying on mental health professionals, and/or failure by relying on people who claimed that they could treat child molesters.

112. The School's breach of its duties include but are not limited to: failure to have sufficient policies and procedures to prevent child sexual abuse, failure to properly implement the policies and procedures to prevent child sexual abuse, failure to take reasonable measures to make sure that the policies and procedures to prevent child sexual abuse were working, failure to adequately inform families and children of the risks of child sexual abuse, failure to investigate risks of child sexual abuse, failure to properly train the workers at institutions and programs within the School, geographical confines, failure to protect children in its programs from child sexual abuse, failure to adhere to the applicable standard of care for child safety, failure to investigate the amount and type of information necessary to represent the institutions, programs, leaders and people as safe, failure to train its employees properly to identify signs of child molestation by fellow employees, failure by relying on mental health professionals, and/or failure by relying on people who claimed that they could treat child molesters.

113. The Church's breach of its duties include but are not limited to: failure to have sufficient policies and procedures to prevent child sexual abuse, failure to properly implement the policies and procedures to prevent child sexual abuse, failure to take reasonable measures to make sure that the policies and procedures to prevent child sexual abuse were working, failure to adequately inform families and children of the risks of child sexual abuse, failure to investigate risks of child sexual abuse, failure to properly train the workers at institutions and programs within the School, geographical confines, failure to protect children in its programs from child sexual abuse, failure to adhere to the applicable standard of care for child safety, failure to investigate the amount and type of information necessary to represent the institutions, programs, leaders and people as safe, failure to train its employees properly to identify signs of child molestation by fellow employees, failure by relying on mental health professionals, and/or failure by relying on people who claimed that they could treat child molesters.

114. The Diocese also breached its duties to Plaintiff by failing to warn Plaintiff and Plaintiff's family of the risk that Father Edward Byrne posed and the risks of child sexual abuse by clerics and other church and school personnel.

115. The Diocese also failed to warn Plaintiff and Plaintiff's family about any of the knowledge that it had about child sexual abuse.

116. The School also breached its duties to Plaintiff by failing to warn Plaintiff and Plaintiff's family of the risk that Father Edward Byrne posed and the risks of child sexual abuse by clerics and other church and school personnel.

117. The School also failed to warn Plaintiff and Plaintiff's family about any of the knowledge that it had about child sexual abuse.

118. The Church also breached its duties to Plaintiff by failing to warn Plaintiff and Plaintiff's family of the risk that Father Edward Byrne posed and the risks of child sexual abuse by clerics and other church and school personnel.

119. The Church also failed to warn Plaintiff and Plaintiff's family about any of the knowledge that it had about child sexual abuse.

120. The Diocese also violated a legal duty by failing to report known and/or suspected abuse of children by Father Edward Byrne and/or its other agents to the police and law enforcement.

121. The School also violated a legal duty by failing to report known and/or suspected abuse of children by Father Edward Byrne and/or its other agents to the police and law enforcement.

122. The Church also violated a legal duty by failing to report known and/or suspected abuse of children by Father Edward Byrne and/or its other agents to the police and law enforcement.

123. By employing Father Edward Byrne at the School and other facilities within the Diocese, the Diocese, through its agents, affirmatively represented to minor children and their families that Father Edward Byrne did not pose a threat to children, did not have a history of molesting children, that the Diocese did not know that Father Edward Byrne had a history of molesting children, and that the Diocese did not know that Father Edward Byrne was a danger to children.

124. By employing Father Edward Byrne at the School, the School through its agents, affirmatively represented to minor children and their families that Father Edward Byrne did not pose a threat to children, did not have a history of molesting children, that the School did not know that Father Edward Byrne had a history of molesting children, and that the School did not know that Father Edward Byrne was a danger to children.

125. 297. At the time Father Edward Byrne molested Plaintiff, which Father Edward Byrne knew would cause, or disregarded the substantial probability that it would cause, severe emotional distress, the Church employed Father Edward Byrne as Plaintiff's priest, teacher, mentor, and counselor.

298. It was part of Father Edward Byrne's job as priest, teacher, role model, and mentor to gain Plaintiff's trust. Father Edward Byrne used his position, and the representations made by the Church about his character that accompanied that position, to gain Plaintiff's trust and confidence and to create opportunities to violate Plaintiff.

299. The Diocese knew and/or disregarded the substantial probability that Father Edward Byrne's conduct would cause severe emotional distress to Plaintiff.

300. The School knew and/or disregarded the substantial probability that Father Edward Byrne's conduct would cause severe emotional distress to Plaintiff.

301. The Church knew and/or disregarded the substantial probability that Father Edward Byrne's conduct would cause severe emotional distress to Plaintiff.

302. Plaintiff suffered severe emotional distress, including psychological and emotional injury as described above.

303. This distress was caused by Father Edward Byrne's sexual abuse of Plaintiff.

304. The sexual abuse of Plaintiff was extreme and outrageous conduct, beyond all possible bounds of decency, atrocious and intolerable in a civilized community.

305. The Diocese is liable for Father Edward Byrne's conduct under the doctrine of respondeat superior.

306. The School is liable for Father Edward Byrne's conduct under the doctrine of respondeat superior.

307. The Church is liable for Father Edward Byrne's conduct under the doctrine of respondeat superior.

308. By reason of the foregoing, Defendants, jointly, severally and/or in the alternative, are liable to Plaintiff for compensatory and punitive damages, together with interest and costs.

SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION: NEGLIGENT INFLICTION OF EMOTIONAL DISTRESS

309. Plaintiff repeats and realleges each and every allegation set forth above as if fully set forth herein.

310. As set forth at length herein, the actions of the Diocese, its predecessors and/or successors, agents, servants and/or employees, were conducted in a negligent and/or grossly negligent manner.

311. As set forth at length herein, the actions of the School, its predecessors and/or successors, agents, servants and/or employees were conducted in a negligent and/or grossly negligent manner.

313. The Diocese's actions endangered Plaintiff's safety and caused him to fear for his own safety.

314. The School's actions endangered Plaintiff's safety and caused him to fear for his own safety.

315. The Church's actions endangered Plaintiff's safety and caused him to fear for his own safety.

316. As a direct and proximate result of the Diocese's actions, which included but were not limited to, negligent and/or grossly negligent conduct, Plaintiff suffered the severe injuries and damages described herein, including but not limited to, mental and emotional distress.

317. As a direct and proximate result of the School's actions, which included but were not limited to, negligent and/or grossly negligent conduct, Plaintiff suffered the severe injuries and damages described herein, including but not limited to, mental and emotional distress.

318. As a direct and proximate result of the Church's actions, which included but were not limited to, negligent and/or grossly negligent conduct, Plaintiff suffered the severe injuries and damages described herein, including but not limited to, mental and emotional distress.

319. In addition to its own direct liability for negligently inflicting emotional distress on Plaintiff, the Diocese is also liable for Father Edward Byrne's negligent infliction of emotional distress under the doctrine of respondeat superior.

320. At the time Father Edward Byrne breached his duty to Plaintiff, Father Edward Byrne was employed as Plaintiff's priest, teacher, mentor, and counselor by the Diocese.

321. It was part of Father Edward Byrne's job as teacher, advisor, role model and mentor to gain Plaintiff's trust. Father Edward Byrne used his position, and the representations made by the Diocese about his character that accompanied that position, to gain Plaintiff's trust and confidence and to create opportunities to be alone with, and touch, Plaintiff.

322. In addition to its own direct liability for negligently inflicting emotional distress on Plaintiff, the School is also liable for Father Edward Byrne's negligent infliction of emotional distress under the doctrine of respondeat superior.

323. At the time Father Edward Byrne breached his duty to Plaintiff, Father Edward Byrne was employed as Plaintiff's priest, teacher, mentor, and counselor by the School.

324. It was part of Father Edward Byrne's job as priest, teacher, advisor, role model and mentor to gain Plaintiff's trust. Father Edward Byrne used his position, and the representations made by the School about his character that accompanied that position, to gain Plaintiff's trust and confidence and to create opportunities to be alone with, and touch, Plaintiff.

325. In addition to its own direct liability for negligently inflicting emotional distress on Plaintiff, the Church is also liable for Father Edward Byrne's negligent infliction of emotional distress under the doctrine of respondeat superior.

326. At the time Father Edward Byrne breached his duty to Plaintiff, Father Edward Byrne was employed as Plaintiff's priest, teacher, mentor, and counselor by the Church.

327. It was part of Father Edward Byrne's job as priest, teacher, advisor, role model and mentor to gain Plaintiff's trust. Father Edward Byrne used his position, and the representations made by the Church about his character that accompanied that position, to gain Plaintiff's trust and confidence and to create opportunities to be alone with, and touch, Plaintiff.

328. By reason of the foregoing, Defendants, jointly, severally and/or in the alternative, are liable to Plaintiff for compensatory damages, and for punitive damages, together with interest and costs.

EIGHTH CAUSE OF ACTION: BREACH OF STATUTORY DUTY TO REPORT
ABUSE UNDER SOC. SERV. LAW §§ 413 and 420

329. Plaintiff repeats and realleges each and every allegation set forth above as if fully set forth herein.

330. Pursuant to N.Y. Soc. Serv. Law §§ 413 and 420, the Diocese, including but not limited to its teachers, administrators, and other school personnel, had a statutorily imposed duty to report reasonable suspicion of abuse of children in its care.

331. Pursuant to N.Y. Soc. Serv. Law §§ 413 and 420, the School had a statutorily imposed duty to report reasonable suspicion of abuse of children in its care.

332. Pursuant to N.Y. Soc. Serv. Law §§ 413 and 420, the Church had a statutorily imposed duty to report reasonable suspicion of abuse of children in its care.

333. The Diocese, including but not limited to its teachers, administrators, and other school personnel, breached that statutory duty by knowingly and willfully failing to report reasonable suspicion of abuse by Father Edward Byrne of children in its care.

334. The School, including but not limited to its teachers, administrators, and other school personnel, breached that statutory duty by knowingly and willfully failing to report reasonable suspicion of abuse by Father Edward Byrne of children in its care.

335. The Church, including but not limited to its teachers, administrators, and other school personnel, breached that statutory duty by knowingly and willfully failing to report reasonable suspicion of abuse by Father Edward Byrne of children in its care.

336. As a direct and/or indirect result of said conduct, Plaintiff has suffered injuries and damages described herein.

337. By reason of the foregoing, Defendants, jointly, severally and/or in the alternative, are liable to plaintiff for compensatory damages, and for punitive damages, together with interest and costs.

WHEREFORE, it is respectfully requested that the Court grant judgment in this action in favor of the Plaintiff, and against the Defendants, in a sum of money in excess of the jurisdictional limits of all lower courts which would otherwise have jurisdiction, together with all applicable interest, costs, disbursements, as well as punitive damages and such other, further and different relief as the Court in its discretion shall deem to be just, proper and equitable.

Plaintiff further places Defendants on notice and reserves the right that to interpose claims sounding in Fraudulent Concealment, Deceptive Practices and/or Civil Conspiracy should the facts and discovery materials support such claims.

ATTORNEY'S VERIFICATION

Adam P. Slater, an attorney duly admitted to practice law in the Courts of the State of New York, hereby affirms the following statements to be true under the penalties of perjury, pursuant to Rule 2106 of the CPLR:

Your affirmant is a partner of SLATER SLATER SCHULMAN, LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff in the within action;

That he has read the foregoing Complaint and knows the contents thereof; that the same is true to his own knowledge, except as to the matters therein stated to be alleged upon information and belief, and that as to those matters he believes it to be true.

Affirmant further states that the source of his information and the grounds for his belief are derived from interviews with the Plaintiff and from the file maintained in the normal course of business.

Affirmant further states that the reason this verification is not made by the Plaintiff is that the Plaintiff is not presently within the County of New York, which is the county wherein the attorneys for the Plaintiff herein maintain their offices.
